ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Brennan and family, Ballymarnon, Carlow, return thanks to all their kind friends and relatives for their expressions of sympathy in their recent sad bereavement, and trust all will accept this acknowledgment.

IN MEMORIAM.

CLAFFEY—In loving memory of my beloved husband, Thomas, called Home 19th May, 1921. Sadly missed by his sorrowing wife.

COLLINS—In sad and loving memory of our darling daughter, Ethel, who was taken Home 19th May, 1919. "With Christ, which is far better."

CUNNINGHAM—In sad and loving memory of our dear husband, departed this life May 19th, 1920; at her residence, 242 North Circular rd. Masses offered this day.

Day by day we miss you sadly more and more,
No eyes can see our grief,
While deep within our hearts
Your memory we keep.
And often times we wander
To the grave of covered clay,
The place where we buried you
Just two years ago to-day.
Inserted by her loving children.

FRIZZELL—In loving memory of Richard Frizzell, B.L., T.C.D., who died, at Dublin, May 20th, 1920.

A loving son, a brother kind,
Beloved by those he left behind;
Forget him—no, we never will,
As time rolls on he lives still.
Inserted by loving father, mother, brothers, and sisters.

STRONG—In cherished memory of our darling daughter (May), who entered into rest May 19th, 1918, at Arran st., Ballina. "In sure and certain hope of a joyful resurrection."

Our Portrait is of Mrs. Woodrow, of 56 Robinson road, Tooting, London, S.W.17, whose husband writes:—

"My wife has suffered very badly for the past four or five years with Piles, being unable to sleep at night or get any relief during the day. She tried several advertised remedies, none of which did her any good. Some three weeks ago she thought she would try 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and before she had taken half a bottle she was better, and by the time she had finished the second bottle she was quite cured. She can now sleep well, eat well, and get about her work, and her general health is better than it has been for years." In a further letter some eight months later Mr. Woodrow writes:—"I am pleased to say that since my wife's cure of Piles in September, 1918, there has been no sign of return of the trouble."

LAW REPORTS.

HORSES FOR GREECE.

CORK FARMER'S CLAIM.

In the High Court of Appeal for Ireland, before the Lord Chancellor, Lord Chief Justice Henry, and Mr. Justice Dodd, the arguments which have lasted for two days, concluded in an appeal brought by the executors of the late D. O'Driscoll v. Panagoulopoulos from an order of the High Court of Justice for Southern Ireland affirming a decision of the King's Bench Division refusing an application for an order setting aside the verdict obtained by the plaintiff at the trial for £1,632 in respect of an alleged contract for the sale of horses to the defendant, as representing the Greek Government.

The plaintiff, Mr. William O'Driscoll, is a farmer and horse-dealer residing at Bandon, Co. Cork, and the defendant, Mr. John Panagoulopoulos, resides in Athens.

The action was originally tried before Mr. Justice Wylie and a Dublin special jury, with the result mentioned, on his undertaking to pay the amount granted to the defendant on his undertaking to lodge £1,500 in court, which he did.

The Court reserved judgment.

The Court (Lord Chancellor, K.C., Mr. T. M. Sullivan, K.C., and Mr. Lynch, K.C., Mr. T. Conner, K.C., Mr. Lynch, K.C., Mr. T. Sullivan, K.C., and Mr. Lynch (instructed by Messrs. P. W. Bass and Co.) appeared for the plaintiff; and Serjeant Hanna, Mr. S. Murphy, K.C., and Mr. Dockrell (instructed by Messrs. Findlater and Co.) for the defendant.

THEATRE-OWNER'S WILL.

ADMINISTRATION OF ESTATE.

In the Chancery Division yesterday, before Mr. Justice Gordon (sitting for Mr. Justice Powell), in the case of Alexander Findlater against George T. J. Minshull and Vincent Potter, executors and trustees of the will of the late Bernard McNamee, commonly known in theatrical circles as "Barney Armstrong."

Mr. Marnan (instructed by Messrs. William Findlater and Co.) applied on behalf of the plaintiffs, who are creditors of the estate of the deceased gentleman, for an order for the administration of the estate. Mr. McNamee died on the 29th September, 1921, and his will was dated July 11, 1919. By that will he left all his real and personal estate to the defendants on trust for his grand-nephew. The assets were estimated at nearly £17,000, and his liabilities were about £9,000. The assets consisted chiefly of shares in music halls in Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry, Dublin, and Galway. The plaintiffs claim, which was admitted, was for £462 2s. 5d., and they believed that the estate could best be administered under the control of the Court.

Mr. O'Connell, K.C., with whom was Mr. Edward Fitzgerald (instructed by Messrs. Hayes and Sons), on behalf of the defendants, asked for liberty for them to carry on for the benefit of the estate the various theatrical enterprises of the late "Barney Armstrong," and to proceed with the sale of his late residence, Drumcondra, Dublin, and portion of the furniture, to sell a motor car, and to lodge in court the proceeds of such sales, after paying thereout £500 costs to Mrs. Helena McNamee, widow of the testator, and £250 costs to Messrs. Hayes for costs of services rendered during the life of the late Mr. McNamee.

Mr. Justice Pim made an order for the administration of the estate under the control of the Court, and in gave the executors liberty to carry on the Empire Music Hall, Londonderry; the Empire, Galway; the Empire, Belfast, and other such enterprises in which the deceased was interested, until they could be disposed of to the best advantage. He also gave liberty for the sale of the house and furniture.

£40,000 ESTATE.

SALE OF A DUBLIN HOUSE.

The hearing of the action in which Mrs. Teresa M. Kelly sued the executors of the late Patrick Duignan, who had left property worth £40,000, for the specific performance of an agreement entered into by Mr. Duignan to sell her the house "St. Gerard's," Iona road, Drumcondra, concluded yesterday in the Chancery Division before the Master of the Rolls, who reserved judgment.

COUNTY COURT SITTINGS.

UNCERTAINTY OF TRIAL.

In the King's Bench Division, before Mr. Justice Gordon, the action was mentioned, in which Miss Frances Stockdale, a solicitor's assistant, is plaintiff, and Mr. Joseph Boyd, National School teacher, of Manorhamilton, Co. Leitrim, is the defendant. The plaintiff claims £500 damages for alleged slander. The defendant denies having slandered the plaintiff. An application was made on behalf of the defendant on May 11 to remit the action for trial to the County Court Judge of Leitrim; and the matter was adjourned in order that evidence might be produced as to the probability or otherwise of the County Court Judge sitting in the near future.

Mr. Geoghegan, who (instructed by Mr. Patrick O'Flynn) appeared for the plaintiff, stated that Mr. Lyons, solicitor for the defendant, had put in an affidavit, stating that the Session had been held in the Market House, Manorhamilton, as the Courthouse was in the possession of the unofficial I.R.A. The plaintiff had made an application, in which she stated that the Sessions were not held by reason of the fact that the Courthouse was in the possession of armed forces. Counsel subsequently produced a letter from the Clerk of the Peace, in which it was stated that the Sessions were held at Manorhamilton for the last time. Counsel urged that the case should be disposed of by a judge, without a jury, and without pleadings.

Mr. Justice Gordon said that if Mr. Geoghegan got Mr. Shannon to agree, he did not think that would be unreasonable.

Mr. Wm. G. Shannon, who (instructed by Messrs. Fenton and Lyons) appeared for the defendant, said that he had been instructed not to agree.

Mr. Justice Gordon remitted the action to the County Court, the costs of both parties to be costs in the cause.

COMPANY LAW.

APPLICATION TO STAY JUDGMENT.

An interesting point in company law was discussed in the King's Bench Division yesterday, before Mr. Justice Gordon, in two motions for final judgment, one being on behalf of the Irish Agricultural Wholesale Society, Ltd., and the other on behalf of Messrs. O'Neill and Mellon, merchants, of Guildhall street, Derry, the defendants in both applications being the Ballyhoffey and Stranorlar Co-operative Society. In the first case, final judgment for £654 was sought, and in the second case for £46 odd, the sums claimed in both cases being for goods sold.

Mr. F. J. Kelly, M.P. (instructed by Mr. V. P. McMullen), on behalf of the defendant society, asked that the motions be stayed, on the ground that on last Tuesday a petition had been filed in the Chancery Court for the winding-up of the society.

Mr. Finlay (instructed by Mr. John Tracy), for Messrs. O'Neill and McHenry, opposed any stay, and asked that both motions be tried together.

Mr. Kelly said that his lordship could, if he thought fit, stay the final judgment proceedings. The result would be that Mr. Finlay's claim would be considered along with the other claims, and if he now got judgment, his claim would have priority. Since the petition had been published the other creditors had taken fright, and eight writs had been served on the defendant society. The assets were only about £1,200. The society wanted to secure the most even distribution possible amongst all their creditors.

Mr. Justice Gordon said that he would allow the matter to stand until next Monday, and counsel on both sides could, in the meantime, look into the question, and give him the benefit of their inquiries.

SALISBURY.

EXCELLENT GOING.

BLACKLAND WINS THE WILTSHIRE PLATE.

Unsettled weather marred the opening stage at Salisbury yesterday, but no fault could be found with the track, the turf providing almost perfect going.

One or two eleventh hour absentees reduced the field for the Wiltshire Plate to nine, and every encouragement was to be gained from the market in favour of George Drake, who carried a lot of money, invested both on the course and at starting price. His backers began to be jubilant when he drew out with a lead at half-way, but a furious rush Blackland was seen to be travelling very smoothly, and Higgs, challenging at the distance, scored a meritorious victory, and one on which he is to be congratulated for his clever riding.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

Unsettled weather unfortunately marred the full enjoyment of the sport at Salisbury yesterday, and it is to be hoped that better conditions will prevail to-day. The field for the Salisbury Cup will probably include the following:—Trespasser (Duller), Grandcourt (Fox), Count Palatine, Drake's Drum (V. Smyth), Norseman (Donoghue), Pretty (A. Higgs), Pooka (G. Smith), Double Hackle, Mixzen Mast, Light Dragoon, and Knight of the Orient. Trespasser is strongly fancied for the event, despite his big burden, whilst it is significant that Norseman will be Cottrill's selected, instead of the Chester Cup winner, Chivalrous. Light Dragoon can, perhaps, be regarded as likely to provide the chief danger to Norseman. Selections in full are as follow:—

Maiden Plate—White Satin.
Stonehenge Plate—Pinsk.
Salisbury Cup—Norseman.
Foal Stakes—Azimuth.
Wilton Handicap—Be Hopeful, Longleat Stakes—Page.

2.0—A MAIDEN PLATE, £200. Second £20, third £10. 5 f.

POWERSTOWN PARK.

MR. H. USSHER'S TREBLE.

FOUR FAVOURITES SCORE.

The feature of yesterday's racing at Powerstown Park was the treble event brought off by Mr. Ussher with Kilmoral, Golden Street, and Ratoath, the two former being the property of Mrs. Croft. F. Wootton had the ride on the first and last-named, and he had to exert all his skill to win on Kilmoral. The son of Killeagh was a sound favourite for the May Plate, but his backers got a bit of a fright when he appeared to be shut in on the rails after the last hurdle. For a moment it seemed as if Wootton would have to pull round and deliver his challenge on the outside, but he just managed to get through and take the measure of Vivace. Golden Street had an easy victory in the Southern Plate, Jonny T, who for a long way had looked like scoring, compounding at the last fence. The well-backed Ballinacurra Boy fell at half-way, and soon afterwards Dilly Wings came to grief. Ratoath won the Commons Plate from the more fancied Swordknot, as, after the pair had kept close company to the last fence, Mr. Elder's mare then came away to win by eight lengths. Glowanna and Saki were joint favourite for the Maiden Hurdle, and the former scored by a length and a half from the other, who made most of the running. Knight of Greenane, who likes the course, made short work of the lot he met in the Curragh Plate; and Glen Reagh followed up his Waterford success by easily beating Rebel in the Maiden Plate. Details:—

2.0—MAIDEN HURDLE of 50 sovs., of which second receives 2 sovs. A weight-for-age hurdle race. 1 m. 6 f.

		Age.
Sir G. Abercrombie's b. m. GLOWANNA, by Southannan—Red Glow, 5, 11-7	Jos Canty	1
Mr. H. Ussher's SAKI, 4, 10-5	F. Wootton	2
Mr. T. J. Taaffe's WISH BONE, 5, 10-6	M. Connors	3

(Winner trained by H. M. Hartigan.)

Betting—Evens each GLOWANNA and Saki, 20 to 1 Wish Bone.

Saki settled down from Wish Bone until half a mile from home, when Glowanna became second, and, taking command at the last hurdle, won by a length and a half; forty lengths separated second and third.

2.30—SUIR PLATE of 50 sovs., of which the second receives 2 sovs. A handicap hurdle race. 1 m. 6 f.

Mrs. Croft's b. g. KILMORAL, by Killeagh—Moral Mary, a, 11-9	F. Wootton	1
Mrs. Jno. Murphy's VIVACE, a, 10-4	J. Regan	2
Mr. T. J. Fanelli's PRIDE OF KILCASH, 5, 11-5	J. Hogan, sen.	3

Capt. R. H. Smyth's Sunbank, a, 11-2 ..... S. Regan 0
Mr. J. Punch's The Wilderness, 5, 11-5 ..... J. H. Harty 0
Mrs. Cunningham's Never Mind, a, 10-5 ..... Mr. A. Keating 0
Mr. T. A. Byrne's Lady Cluney, 6, 10-0 ..... J. Moulton 0
E. E. Le Lavier's Kilcash, a, 10-0 ..... M. Conlon 0

(Winner trained by Ussher.)

Betting—2 to 1 agst. KILMORAL, 5 to 1 each Pride of Kilcash and Lady Cluney, 7 to 1 each Vivace and Kilcash, 10 to 1 any other.

Kilcash made play from Never Mind. Lady Cluney, Vivace, Pride of Kilcash, and Supercraft with Kilmoral last, until half a mile from home, when Vivace came on from Pride of Kilcash and Kilmoral. The last-named challenged after the last hurdle, and won by three-parts of a length; four lengths separated second and third. Supercraft was fourth, Kilcash fifth, and Never Mind next.

3.0—SOUTHERN PLATE of 50 sovs., of which second receives 2 sovs. A handicap steeplechase. 3 m.

Mrs. Croft's br. g. GOLDEN STREET, by Ben Alder—Bauble, 5, 12-5	Beasley	1
Mr. J. Rooney's JOHNNY T., a, 11-3	Hogan, jun.	2
Mr. J. O'Neill's UNCLE JOHN, a, 12-0	E. Houlihan	3
Lord Kenmare's Lalakia, a, 11-7	J. Meaney	0
Mr. W. J. Madden's Ballinacurra Boy, 6, 11-7	M. Colbert	0
Capt. J. O'G. Delmege's Dilly Wings, a, 10-9	J. Burns	0

(Winner trained by Ussher.)

Betting—3 to 1 each agst. GOLDEN STREET, Johnny T., and Ballinacurra Boy, 4 to 1 Dilly Wings, 20 to 1 each John and Lalakia.

Dilly Wings made play from Johnny T., Golden Street, Lalakia, Uncle John, and Ballinacurra Boy, for half-way, when the last-named fell, and Lalakia was pulled up. A mile from home Dilly Wings fell, and Johnny T. then came on from Golden Street, who challenged at the second last fence, and won easily by six lengths; twenty lengths separated second and third.

3.30—CURRAGH PLATE of 50 sovs. A handicap flat race. 1 m.

		Age.
Mr. J. S. Graham's THE KNIGHT OF GREENANE, by The White Knight—Soldier's Daughter, 6, 7-12	E. M. Quirke	1
Mr. R. Wallace's BILLY FIELDS, 5, 8-2	Dines	2
Mr. R. Power's MAKE SURE, 4, 8-4	H. Beasley	3
Mr. J. R. O'Connor's Slave Mistress, a, 6-12	Mr. Quirke	0

(Winner trained by J. J. Parkinson.)

Betting—5 to 4 agst. KNIGHT OF GREENANE, 2 to 1 Belle Field, 7 to 2 Make Sure, 5 to 1 each Slave Mistress and Billy Fields.

Knight of Greenane settled down from Belle Field, and, making all the running, won easily by four lengths; six lengths separated second and third.

4.0—MAIDEN PLATE of 50 sovs., of which the second received 2 sovs. A weight for age steeplechase. 2 m.

		Age.
Mr. J. Meade's b. c. GLEN REAGH, by Royal Grig—Miss Alice, 4, 10-5	F. Glavin	1
Mr. H. Harrigan's REBEL, 6, 12-4	Lacy	2
Mr. B. Laverty's Manta, 6, 11-0	J. Burns	0

(Winner trained by Moloney.)

Betting—5 to 4 on Rebel, 6 to 4 agst. GLEN REAGH, 10 to 1 Manta.

Rebel and Glen Reagh ran in close company to the last fence, where Glen Reagh drew out 5 lengths by half a length. Manta did not complete the course.

4.30—COMMONS PLATE of 50 sovs., of which the second received 2 sovs. A weight for age steeplechase. 2 m.

		Age.
Mr. J. J. Elder's b. m. RATOATH, by Fugleman—Capitulate, 5, 12-8	F. Wootton	1
Mr. L. Brabazon's SWORDKNOT, 5, 12-0	C. Aylin	2
Mr. P. Sheehan's Sunbank, 5, 11-5	F. Glavin	0

(Winner trained by Tasker.)

Betting—5 to 4 on Swordknot, 5 to 4 agst. RATOATH, 10 to 1 Sunbank.

Ratoath made all the running, and won easily by eight lengths. Sunbank fell a mile from home.

AN ORGY OF CRIME.

FIVE MEN DEAD IN BELFAST.

ATTEMPT TO SEIZE POLICE HEADQUARTERS.

MEN DISGUISED AS CONSTABLES.

Three men were murdered by armed men on tramcars in Belfast yesterday—two on one car on the Crumlin road in the morning, and one on a car in York road in the afternoon. The murderers escaped.

A carter who was shot during the morning died in hospital in the afternoon.

Particularly daring was the attempt of an armed gang disguised in police uniforms to seize Musgrave street barracks—the city police headquarters.

The attempt might have succeeded but for the prompt action of the dayroom guard—Constable Collins and Special Constable McKeown—who alarmed the other men in the barrack.

Both constables were fired upon and wounded by the raiders, Collins dying afterwards in hospital.

When the police in barrack began to fire the raiders withdrew hastily and disappeared.

RAID THAT FAILED.

MEN IN POLICE UNIFORMS.

(FROM OUR BELFAST CORRESPONDENT.)

BELFAST, Thursday.

A daring raid took place here early this morning, when an attempt was made to seize the Central Police Barracks, Musgrave street, the headquarters of the City Force.

At four o'clock the guard at the day-room of the barracks—Constable John Collins and Special Constable McKeown—heard a knock at the front gate. Collins, before opening the gate, inquired, "Who is there?" and received the reply, "Police on duty." He opened the door about a couple of inches to satisfy himself that they were police who demanded admission, and saw seven or eight men dressed in police waterproof coats and caps. They were tall, well-built men, and Collins, believing that they were Royal Irish Constabulary, opened the door.

On entering the men carefully closed the gate, and pushed their way into the day-room, with Collins in front of them.

McKeown paid little heed to the men, as it is quite customary for police to be passing in and out of the barracks at all hours of the day and night.

As soon as they entered the day-room, however, the raiders all produced revolvers and gave the order, "Hands up!" Still the two men of the guard were not surprised. They thought the affair was a joke. They were in the difficulty of knowing many of the men personally; but that was only natural, owing to the large numbers of strange men who are being drafted into the city stations every day. The raiders repeated the command, and then the guard realised that the strangers were not police at all.

The two Royal Irish Constabulary men were at once relieved of their revolvers, and, finding all means of resistance from firearms gone, the raiders released their hold on the police to some extent.

McKeown, who was nearest to the door of the day-room, then made a dash for the yard for the purpose of giving the alarm, but one of the raiders, who were stated to be Sinn Feiners, struck him a severe blow on the back of the head with the butt of a revolver.

Although somewhat dazed by the blow, McKeown staggered out to the yard, but before he could give a call for assistance several shots were fired after him, and he collapsed in the yard, wounded in the leg. At the same time several other shots were discharged in the day-room, and Constable Collins also fell.

The raiders then made a rush up stairs, towards the arms room, but they met with a hot reception.

The sound of the shooting below put Sergeant Toomley, who was in charge of the arms and ammunition, on the alert, and, opening the door, he saw several men running up stairs. As soon as the door was opened the Sinn Feiners fired several shots at the sergeant, who briskly returned the fire, and in the meantime a special constable who was on guard in another part of the barracks hurried to the scene and fired several shots.

Finding that the opposition was getting greater as time went on, the gang saw there was no hope of carrying out their plan. They escaped over the high walls and disappeared, some in the direction of the markets and others towards the Queen's Bridge.

Subsequently the two injured policemen were taken in the ambulance to the Royal Victoria Hospital. Collins, who had received bullet wounds in the head and body, died shortly before five o'clock. McKeown, in addition to the injuries inflicted by the butt of the revolver to his head, got a bullet through his right leg near the ankle. His condition is not regarded as serious.

M'Keown has been about seventeen months in the Special Constabulary, and came to Musgrave street four months ago. He came on a transfer draft to the city as that which contained Special Constables Chermside and Cunningham, who were murdered in May street about two months ago. Constable Collins, who is 50 years of age, had almost 27 years' service in the force, and was to have resigned in a few weeks' time.

OFFICIAL ACCOUNT.

STATEMENT BY SIR DAWSON BATES.

Mr. Lynn, in the Northern Parliament, asked the Minister for Home Affairs whether he can give the House any information regarding the attack which was made on the Crown Forces by Sinn Feiners in the Marrowbone area on Wednesday night; and, further, whether he can give any details of the Sinn Fein attack on Musgrave street Barrack this morning.

The Minister for Home Affairs—I have received a report from the police, stating that at about 8.45 p.m. on the 17th inst. intense rifle and revolver firing took place in Flax street and Havana street, both of which are in the Catholic area. The firing extended from Ardoyne to the Marrowbone area. Special police were posted at Fearon's spirit grocery, on the Oldpark road. This post was fired on from the above area, and the police returned the fire. No casualties have been reported.

The firing lasted until about 9.30 p.m., when Crown Forces on duty in the area got the gunmen under control. During the firing the public-house of Owen Taggart, 289 Crumlin road (mixed area), and the pawn shop of Edward Mitchell, 24 Ardilea street, a Sinn Fein area, were found to be on fire. The Fire Brigade was called out and subdued the flames.

The attack on Musgrave street Barrack started at 5.40 this morning. Seven men, dressed in police uniform and caps, knocked at the front gate, and said that they were police on duty. The barrack orderlies—Constable Collins and Special Constable M'Keown—after due scrutiny, appeared to have been satisfied that the men were police, and admitted them. As soon as they got in they rushed the two constables and ordered "Hands up."

Constable Collins was shot down. Special Constable M'Keown ran for help and raised the alarm. He was shot in the leg as he ran away. The action of this constable, as well as that of Sergeants Toomey, who fired on the raiders from an upstairs room, upset their plans completely, and they retired at once. All the available police were summoned, and an extensive search was carried out during the morning. Up to the present six revolvers, three rifles, and about 500 rounds of ammunition have been found.

I should like to pay a tribute to the gallant manner in which Constable Collins and Special Constable McKeown resisted the attack of these armed men. I regret to say that Constable Collins, who was of exemplary character, and was due for disbandment in a few days, has since died. Special Constable McKeown's injuries are not, I am glad to say, serious.

Mr. Lynn further asked, in view of the tribute paid to those two constables, would the Minister see that their action was suitably rewarded.

Sir Dawson Bates—Special Constable McKeown has already been recommended.

Mr. Grant asked if any steps were being taken to prevent the sale of uniform of disbanded policemen, because it appeared that such uniform could be purchased. Unless some steps were taken, similar outrages were likely to occur.

Sir Dawson Bates—That is an offence in itself, and I would be glad, indeed, if any honourable friend can give me any information.

Mr. Thompson Donald—Have any arrests been made in connection with this dastardly business?

Sir Dawson Bates—None up to the present.

MURDERS ON TRAMS.

THREE MEN DEAD.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

BELFAST, Thursday.

At least three appalling murders were committed here to-day. Two of the victims were going to their work this morning when they were shot on a tram car. They were Samuel McPeake, aged 50 years, of Ligoniel road, and James Donaghy, aged 46, of 53 Ligoniel place. Both were flax dressers in a York road spinning mill, and are stated to be Roman Catholics.

The murder took place near Agnes street, some distance from the Marrowbone area. McPeake and Donaghy are said to have got on the tram at Ardoyne. As the tram went down the Crumlin road shortly before eight o'clock a large number of other passengers going to work in the city got on board, and there must have been about 60 people on the car when the shooting occurred.

The two victims occupied seats at the rear of the top saloon, and the assassins sat behind them in the open portion of the car. Several shots were fired, and immediately the conductor saw two men dashing down the stairs of the car, the first of whom carried a smoking revolver in his hand. Before he could do anything to stop them they jumped to the roadway, ran up to a side street. The car was brought to a stop, and the conductor, going upstairs, saw two men lying on the floor, one apparently dead, and the other dying.

The conductor and the other passengers came to the man's assistance, but their help was of little avail. The tram continued its journey until it reached the Mater Hospital. The injured man was carried into the hospital, but his wound was so serious that he died shortly afterwards. The body of his companion was also taken into the hospital.

One of the passengers stated that he entered the tram a short time before the shooting took place, and was about to sit down close to the victims when the shots were fired. The other passengers thought that the tram was being fired upon from outside, and they crouched down, and before they realised what had happened the gunmen had disappeared.

Another passenger said that the gunmen flourished their revolvers at the other passengers, and ordered them not to move.

A THIRD VICTIM.

There was another dastardly murder this afternoon, when a young man was shot dead on a tramcar bound for the Falls road from Greencastle, at the Midland Railway terminus, York street. The young man, whose name is given as Thomas M'Caffery, of 43 Shore road, was only 18 years of age. He is stated to have been a commission agent's clerk, and was a Roman Catholic.

The car was well filled with people, and the conductor had just finished collecting the fares when he heard three shots in rapid succession. He did not think that the gunman was on the car until passengers on the top deck began rushing down the stairs to the street. In a very short time the car was practically emptied.

An eye-witness, who rushed to the top deck of the car, said that M'Caffrey was lying dead, and blood was flowing freely from him. The conductor lifted the dead man, and carried him to the street. At least one man leaving the car carried a smoking revolver, which he flourished at passengers and pedestrians.

SHOT THROUGH THE ARM.

ATTACK ON A BAKER.

Although curfew was extended this morning until six o'clock, instead of five, the gunmen were not deterred.

Shortly before seven o'clock a.m. a baker named Robert Beattie, on the employment of Messrs. Inglis and Co., Ltd., was shot through the arm when going home from his work, but his injuries are not serious. Beattie, who is fifty-two years of age, is a Protestant, and resides in Hillman street. When he had reached the corner of North Queen street he saw two men standing at the corner of Hardinge street, and as he was crossing the street he heard a shot and felt a pain in his left arm.

Three or four youths with revolvers entered the house of another baker named M'Keown, who resides in the same locality, at 171 Spamount street. They inquired for Mr. M'Keown, but he was not at home. Two of them then produced revolvers, and fired at Mrs. Josephine M'Keown and her son, Arthur, aged twenty-two years. The mother, who is a Roman Catholic, was hit in the face, the bullet passing through both jaws, and she had to be taken to hospital. The son was slightly wounded in the shoulder. The raiders escaped.

William M'Knight, aged thirty-four, a Protestant carter, in the employment of Messrs. Gregg and Co., was passing through Exchange street shortly after eight o'clock this morning when he was shot in the abdomen. He was taken to hospital, where he died in the afternoon.

PRIEST ASSAULTED.

MIDNIGHT RAID ON A HOUSE.

A violent attack on a priest is reported from Cappinihane, Bruree, County Limerick.

About midnight on Tuesday men armed with rifles and shot-guns surrounded the house of John Noonan, farmer, and demanded the surrender of a gun, saying that there were I.R.A. men. Father T. Noonan, C.C., a brother of the farmer, who is home from the English Mission owing to ill health, came out and, recognising the leader of the party, told him that they were not I.R.A. men. Some altercation took place about cattle, and the leader, placing a muzzle at the priest's breast, said that he would shoot him. His companions immediately disarmed him. The leader then struck the priest, dragged the blood-stained stole off his neck, and dashed a crucifix the priest held to the ground.

The priest's brother was sought, but he had escaped. The raiders then fired several volleys into the house.

FIRE IN A HOSPITAL.

SIXTEEN PATIENTS KILLED.

ROME, Thursday.

A fire broke out to-day in the Hospital of the Holy Ghost. The outbreak started in a ward where incurable patients were lying, several of them being killed or injured. At half-past one o'clock this afternoon the ward was a total wreck.

According to the latest reports, sixteen bodies have been recovered from the débris.—(Reuter.)

CATTLE DISEASE COST.

Sir A. Griffith Boscawen, British Minister for Agriculture, yesterday said that the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease, the worst since 1883, would cost altogether £1,000,000, but the money was wisely spent. The slaughtering policy had been justified, and altogether 22,000 cattle, or only one-third of 1 per cent. of the stock in the country, had been killed. The percentages were less for sheep and pigs.

LAVISH OUTDOOR RELIEF.

POPLAR EXPENDITURE INQUIRY.

MANY ADMINISTRATIVE IRREGULARITIES.

In his report issued yesterday Mr H. L. Cooper, of Bolton, who conducted a special inquiry under the direction of the Ministry of Health into the expenditure of the Poplar Guardians, declares that the policy adopted was in many instances foreign to the spirit and intention of poor law statutes.

Payments for out relief in excess of the scale prescribed by the Metropolitan Common Poor Fund represented an additional expenditure, falling direct on the Poplar ratepayers, at the rate of over £93,000 a year. The lavish allowances had a tendency to demoralise the recipients and to destroy the incentive to thrift, self-reliance and industry.

Although surcharged on the ground of no destitution by the district auditor in certain cases—surcharges since confirmed, but remitted on appeal—the Guardians had continued to grant relief in similar cases, and their failure correctly to interpret their duties was additionally illustrated by their right to institute proceedings in cases of desertion or of persons obtaining relief under false pretences.

Mr. Cooper says that he considers that by careful administration a saving of at least £100,000 annually would result. Statistics given show that whereas on October 18, 1920, the total number of persons relieved was 4,483, the figure had risen by the week ending April 22, 1922, to 29,329, including 6,527 separate families of able-bodied persons and involving an expenditure excluding the non-settled poor, of over £12,000.

The rate for a lone person was 7s. 6d. in excess of the Ministry scale, and the rates rose until a man and wife with ten children received £4 4s. as against £2 14s. under the Ministry scale. In numerous cases, the total income of the household, apart from the relief granted exceeded £3 4s. weekly, and since October, 1921, when certain members of the Board were released from prison, no proceedings had been instituted in respect of neglect of family, etc.

An instance of profligacy is mentioned in the fact that last year when 140 children of relieved parents were sent for a fortnight's holiday at the guardians' schools at Shenfield, outdoor relief for their parents was not reduced and I would be glad, indeed, if the honourable friend can give me any information.

Mr. Thompson Donald—Have any arrests been made in connection with this dastardly business?

Sir Dawson Bates—None up to the present.

IRISH CONSTITUTION.

CONFERENCE IN LONDON EXPECTED.

(From Our London Correspondent.)

With reference to the intention of the Provisional Government to propose that the promised general election in Southern Ireland shall take place about the middle of next month, speculation was to be heard in the Lobby at Westminster yesterday on the question whether the draft Constitution of the Free State (which is to be submitted to the electors along with the Treaty) will be placed in the hands of His Majesty's Government before the elections.

On inquiry in authoritative quarters, I learned that His Majesty's Government are assuming that such will be the case, and are looking forward to a conference with representatives of the Irish Government in ample time to secure alterations in the document, should such prove necessary to meet the British view of the Treaty, before the electors are called upon to give their decison.

ROYAL ENGINEERS.

POSITION OF IRISH EMPLOYES.

Sir. W. De Frece was informed by Lieutenant-Colonel G. F. Stanley, in the House of Commons, that the position of War Department employés in Southern Ireland who were in the Royal Engineer services are no longer required in consequence of the change of Government, including those in the Royal Engineer services, is still under consideration, and he hoped that a decision will not long be delayed. Steps had already been taken in the case of certain classes of employés of the Royal Engineers who had served continuously since before the war in the Civil Service with regard to their future employment under the Free State Government, and he was not aware whether that Government is in a position to offer him employment. His last period of service under the War Department, which was on a purely temporary basis, dated from April, 1919, only. Proposals for the establishment of certain classes of Royal Engineer employés in the War Department service generally are being investigated through the War Office Whitley Council machinery.

UNSATISFACTORY OFFER.

GERMAN REPARATIONS PLAN REJECTED.

PARIS, Thursday.

Both the Petit Parisien and the Echo de Paris announce this morning that the proposals regarding reparations recently submitted by Herr Hermes, the German Finance Minister, are unsatisfactory in the unanimous opinion of the members of the Reparations Commission, who have had them under consideration. Herr Hermes has, therefore, been requested to formulate fresh proposals.—(Reuter.)

SURVEYORS' INSTITUTION.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Irish Branch was held yesterday at their offices, 110 Grafton street, Dublin; Mr. W. H. F. Verschoyle (Chairman) presiding.

The result of the Irish professional examinations was announced. The successful candidates were:—Mr. Jas. Bryce Baldner, intermediate examination, quantity surveyor, of the firm of Messrs. Wm. Montgomery and Son, surveyors, 2 Howard street, Belfast; Mr. Samuel Weal Thornton, intermediate examination, quantity surveyor, of the firm of Messrs. William Murdock and Company, surveyors, Commercial Buildings, Dublin; Mr. Ernest F. N. Taylor, special combined single examination, quantity surveyors, of the firm of Messrs. Beckett and Medcalf, quantity surveyors, 6 Clare street, Dublin; Mr. Cecil Wark, intermediate examination, quantity surveyor, of the firm of Messrs. Wm. Montgomery and Son, 2 Howard street, Belfast.

The Committee dealt with questions relating to the pending completion of land purchase in Ireland, the revision of the Institution's membership subscriptions and the proposed registration of the profession, the latter subjects being referred to the Finance Committee, augmented by members representing the different sections of the profession.

In the recent ballot for election to the Council of the Institution, Messrs. Harry Franks and Charles Dickinson were elected representatives of the Irish Branch.

A resolution of sympathy with the Secretary and Mrs. Newcombe in their bereavement was passed in silence.

KING AND QUEEN AT ALDERSHOT.

The King and Queen on concluding their visit to Olympia yesterday afternoon left by motor for Aldershot, where the Court will remain for a week, during which Their Majesties will visit various parts of the great military training centre.

READY FOR A SIEGE.

IRREGULARS FORTIFY BALLINROBE.

MINES LAID: BRIDGES DESTROYED.

The situation in Ballinrobe, County Mayo, has become critical. Following the arrest of six men by the Executive troops, who occupy the military barracks, an ultimatum was issued by the local commander of the Free State forces that unless the prisoners were released within forty-eight hours force would be used in order to set them at liberty.

The forty-eight hours expired yesterday, but, according to our Claremorris Correspondent, the men are still in custody. A telegram was received at Ballinrobe yesterday from Commandant-General Maguire directing their release, but doubts were entertained as to its genuineness.

The Executive troops have made elaborate preparations to defend their positions. Men have been drafted into the town from all parts of County Mayo; the Ulster Bank, which commands a view of the approaches to the town, has been occupied; troops have been sent to the mills; a mine has been laid on the bridge between the barracks and the town; bridges have been destroyed, and the roads have been blocked at several points.

Cranmore House, the residence of Dr. Daly, has been converted into a hospital. Eight or ten doctors have been "called in," and there is a fully-equipped ambulance corps.

BOY BANK ROBBERS.

A KINGSCOURT EXPLOIT.

Raymond Healy, an 18-year-old Dublin lad, who was found guilty yesterday at Dundalk of being an accessory in the robbery of £556 from the Northern Bank at Kingscourt, was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment.

At a preliminary hearing another lad named Cowman, also of Dublin, was charged and remanded in custody, but while undergoing treatment in hospital he escaped, and has not since been found.

The prosecution yesterday alleged that both accused, on the evening of February 2, arrived with a bogus letter of authority, purporting to show that they were I.R.A. officers specially selected for bank robberies. They secured admission to the Hibernian Bank. Cowman wore the uniform of an I.R.A. officer, and carried a revolver and a bomb. Healy remained in the bank after inspection, and decided where he should place his guards. Cowman, in the meantime, left to inspect the Northern Bank, and when he returned to the Hibernian Bank and took Healy away, stating that he wanted to show him how he had placed his guard.

Both men disappeared, but were arrested some months later.

It was contended that Healy was the innocent victim of Cowman.

SCOTTISH MARRIAGE.

OFFICER WHO CHALLENGED ITS VALIDITY.

The question of the validity of a Scottish marriage was raised in the Divorce Court, London, yesterday, when Captain Archibald Dickson Winterbottom, formerly of the 7th Dragoon Guards, sought a decree of nullity of marriage with Gladys Hughes Winterbottom, otherwise Appleton, on the ground that when they went through a marriage ceremony in 1910, at Islington street, Glasgow, neither had lived in Scotland for 21 days previously. The respondent replied that the marriage was certified on their joint application to the sheriff substitute at Dalkeith, that the petitioner could not be heard to deny the validity of the marriage, that they were married in good faith, and in the honest belief that the marriage was valid, had lived together and had two children.

Counsel said that the petitioner met his wife, who was an American by domicile, in the hunting field, while he was stationed at Dublin. At the time the marriage ceremony she wrote to the petitioner that she was married in 1904, and obtained a divorce in 1908. She was granted permission by the Courts to resume her maiden name, with the prefix Mrs., her married name was Penhallow.

The petitioner, in evidence, said that he did not induce the respondent to go to Scotland to get married. She made all the arrangements and he had nothing to do with them. They crossed from Dublin to Glasgow and drove to Wellington street. "There," said petitioner, "we walked straight in, went before the registrar, and it was all finished."

That night they lived together, but as the result of differences, separated in 1919.

The petitioner added that when annoyed his wife held over his head the suggestion that the marriage was invalid.

Cross-examined, the witness said that he proposed marriage after he had known his wife six weeks. It was his full intention when going to Scotland to get married properly. He admitted writing affectionate letters to the respondent, promising to marry her again properly. He did not redeem the promise because of difficulties.

The petitioner told the judge that he would take ever the children.

The Court adjourned.

EXECUTION OF A WRIT

SUB-SHERIFF'S SUCCESSFUL APPEAL.

At a Republican Circuit Court held at 18 Rutland square, Dublin, yesterday, before Mr. Comyn, K.C., Mr. J. C. Ormsby, sub-sheriff of the County of Dublin, appealed against the decision of a Republican District Court in awarding to Mr. James Fagan, solicitor, Rutland square, the sum of £42 in respect of a claim made by Mr. Fagan for alleged failure of the sub-sheriff to execute a decree of fi fa issued by the King's Bench on September 8, 1921, for £229 4s., together with £7 15s. against Michael Kiely, of Lusk.

Mr. Gerald Farrell (instructed by Mr. Patrick Mulligan), for the respondent, stated that the fi fa was handed to the appellant on September 8 for execution. It was not executed, and the judgment that his client received had been rendered fruitless through the neglect of the sub-sheriff.

Mr. O'Byrne, who appeared for the appellant, said that the decree was executed, but the full amount of the claim was not realised, and the plaintiff now sought in the present court to make his client responsible, and to execute a decree of the King's Bench Division.

Mr. Farrell said that what had been described as the British Courts, now functioning under the Provisional Government, were carried on by and with the approval of Dail Eireann.

Mr. Comyn reversed the decision of the District Court, and granted the application of Mr. Farrell to state a case.

NATIONAL SCHOOLS IN ULSTER.

Replying to Mr. Thompson Donald in the Northern Parliament yesterday regarding Elementary Schools in Northern Ireland, the Secretary to the Ministry of Education said that there are about 740 of the National Schools in Northern Ireland under the charge of Roman Catholic managers and teachers. In some 270 of these schools the teachers are not receiving payment from the Northern Government. He added that in such cases school returns and salary claims have not been furnished to the Ministry, but that he had information available it is not practicable to state in how many cases respectively responsibility for this action rests with school managers and teachers. In the case of a small number of these National Schools it has come under notice that the instructions of the Ministry has not been acted upon in some other respects, but the Ministry is not without hope that matters may be satisfactorily adjusted.

Mr. Thompson Donald asked where these school teachers are receiving their salaries from, seeing that they do not recognise the Northern Government.

Mr. M'Keown—It is very difficult to find out exactly where the money is coming from. We know that the money is coming from some source in Dublin.

PRINCESS ELIZABETH.

A telegram emanating from semi-official sources in Athens has (Reuter's Agency learns) been received in London, stating that the condition of the Crown Princess Elizabeth of Greece showed a slight improvement yesterday, after a quiet night.

Prayers are being said in all the churches of the capital and provinces for Her Royal Highness's recovery.

STILL SEEKING PEACE.

RIVAL LEADERS MEET.

DAY OF CONFERENCES.

There was much interest in the lobbies of the National University Buildings yesterday when it was learned that Mr. Michael Collins and Mr. de Valera had put their heads together with a view to finding a basis for peace. While the Dail sat in the Examination Hall, the two leaders met in one of the small rooms off the corridor on the left.

It was not until the Dail had been sitting for some time that the absence of Messrs. Collins and de Valera was noticed. Inquiries as to the cause resulted in the information that still another peace effort was in progress. Shortly after the Dail rose at 6 o'clock the two leaders left the building. No official information as to the result of their discussions was available. It was not expected, of course, that they would do anything definite without consulting their respective colleagues.

A strong rumour was current last night that these negotiations had not been rewarded with any substantial success.

At about 8.30 o'clock last night a meeting of members of the pro-Treaty side assembled in the offices of the Provisional Government at the College of Science. Messrs. Griffith and Collins were both present, and the attendance included Mr. Gavan Duffy, Dr. Vincent White, Mayor of Waterford; Mr. Desmond Fitzgerald, Minister of Publicity, and Mr. O'Dwyer, a member of the Dail Peace Committee. In all, about fifteen members were present. The proceedings did not terminate till close on 11 p.m., and no statement was issued.

It is believed that the meeting had been summoned to discuss the latest phase in the political situation, and to learn the result of the conversations which had taken place earlier in the evening between the leaders of both sides. There is reason to assume that the meeting also considered the attitude to be taken up by the Chairman of the Provisional Government in what must be regarded as the concluding stages of the peace negotiations. The members are also believed to have discussed the position which a final rupture would create.

An Irish Times reporter learnt from unofficial sources that a resumption of the conversations between the leaders to-day was expected. No confirmation was forthcoming of rumours to the effect that a fairly definite and satisfactory understading had been reached between the two parties as the to-mination of last evening's conversations.

Earlier in the day a deputation from the Northern area visited the Mansion House. It was received by representatives of both political and military parties, including Messrs. Griffith, Collins, de Valera, Brugha, Mulcahy, Eoin O'Duffy, Boland, R. O'Connor, and Liam Lynch. The proceedings were private, and no communication was issued.

FREE STATE ARMY.

GOVERNMENT QUITE SATISFIED.

Sir Hamar Greenwood informed Mr. Rupert Gwynne, in the House of Commons yesterday, that when the Free State was established in Ireland the provision for Article 8 of the Treaty would come into force, and their strict observance would be an object of legitimate inquiry by His Majesty's Government. Meanwhile the position was one of considerable difficulty. His Majesty's Government was quite satisfied that the forces at the disposal of the Provisional Government were within the proportion contemplated by the Treaty. It would not be fair to the Provisional Government to give a more definite reply regarding the present strength of the Free State Army in the present circumstances. He was informed that no oath was taken by recruits.

Mr. R. Gwynne asked had the right hon. gentleman made special inquiries whether the oath was the same as that taken by the I.R.A.

Sir Hamar Greenwood said that he had done that. Since the question was put on the paper he had made inquiries, and he was informed that no oath was taken.

Sir J. Remnant asked whether an oath was necessary to be taken by the soldiers of the Free State.

Sir Hamar Greenwood said that that really was not a question which should be asked of him.

Sir J. Remnant said that the right hon. gentleman had boasted several times that he was responsible for law and order in Ireland.

Sir Hamar Greenwood—No. I must disclaim any responsibility for law and order in Ireland since the transfer of powers on April 1st last.

IRISH REFUGEES.

DISTRESS COMMITTEE'S WORK.

Replying to Major Boyd Carpenter in the House of Commons, Sir Hamar Greenwood said that the terms of reference to the Irish Distress Committee were as follows:—(1) To investigate applications by or on behalf of persons ordinarily resident in Ireland, and who, for reasons of personal safety, have come to Great Britain and are represented to be in urgent need of assistance. (2) The Irish Office in Irish Office with reports on the adequacy or otherwise of their reasons for leaving their homes, and so to enable the Irish Office to make detailed representations to the Provisional Government to secure their return to their homes at the earliest possible moment. (3) To authorise the Irish Office, in cases of proved necessity, to advance money sufficient for immediate needs. (4) To advise the Government from time to time on any further steps which may arise owing to the further development of the situation.

Colonel Ashley asked what was the sum of money not at the disposal of the Committee.

Sir Hamar Greenwood—The Leader of the House has already stated that the sum is £10,000.

Colonel Ashley—Is this not a miserably inadequate sum to allocate to the Committee, who will have hundreds of cases to deal with?

Lord Robert Cecil asked whether the Committee would have power to make recommendations for permanent compensation, or would it only alleviate a temporary difficulty.

Sir Hamar Greenwood—It is to alleviate a temporary difficulty. It rests with the Committee to make any further recommendations they wish.

EPPING FOREST MURDER.

George Grimshaw (52), a Walthamstow house decorator, who left his home at six o'clock on Wednesday evening to go for a walk, was found three hours later lying unconscious and badly wounded in some holly bushes at Higham's Park, Epping Forest. He was removed to a local infirmary, where he died yesterday, without having recovered consciousness. It is supposed that the man was attacked with the idea of robbery.

Police investigations are being conducted under the direction of Scotland Yard. Up to last evening no tangible clue had been obtained either in regard to the murdered man's assailant or as to any possible motive for the attack. The spot where the man was found is over three miles from his home, and according to his relatives although he was in the habit of taking a stroll in the evening, he did not usually go so far. On Wednesday evening it was understood he intended to visit a dentist.

ALLEGED ATROCITIES INQUIRY.

PARIS, Thursday.

The French Government has accepted the British proposals for a Commission of Inquiry into the subject of alleged Turkish atrocities, and has given instructions to the French High Commissioner at Constantinople, General Pelle, to act in agreement with his British and Italian colleagues.

Furthermore, the French Government proposes to send a similar Commission to Smyrna, to make an investigation regarding certain misdeeds alleged to have been committed by Greeks, and particularly in connection with their reported forcible enrolment of Turks.—(Reuter.)

RAILWAY BROKEN BY FLOODS.

NAIROBI, Wednesday.

As a result of phenomenal rains during the past week in the costal area, many serious "wash-outs" have occurred. Railway communication between Nairobi and Mombassa has been cut off, and the mails have been sent by indirect routes. A Mombassa resident of fifty years says that it is the heaviest rainfall in his experience. The downpour continues.—(Reuter.)

GENOA NOT A FAILURE.

EUROPE'S REAL MALADY ASCERTAINED.

BRITISH EXPERT'S VIEW.

Sir L. Worthington-Evans said yesterday that the Genoa Conference could not be called a failure. Although no agreement had been reached with Russia, they knew just how trade with that country could be re-established.

The negotiations showed that it was possible to come to an agreement, and the experts at The Hague would not have to seek principles, but would arrange practical measures.

The Commissions which had discussed the confusion in exchanges, Customs, imports, exports, and transport had discovered the true malady, and now the way was open for making treaties that could be applied and would relieve trade depression and unemployment.

"SOMETHING WORTH DOING."

WAY PAVED FOR PRACTICAL MEASURES.

In an interview with the Press Association's Special Correspondent at Genoa, Sir L. Worthington Evans said that the chief difficulty underlying all the others at the Conference was the unsettled condition due to disorganisation in Russia.

Genoa had not succeeded in securing an agreement with the Russian Government setting out in detail the terms upon which Russia will recognise her public debts and restore private property, or, where restoration is impossible, compensate the former owners. Much time was spent in endeavouring to reach such an agreement, in order that it might become the foundation for future trading credits.

Without financial assistance trade with Russia cannot be swiftly opened up; but unless the Russian Government is prepared, not merely to recognise the liabilities assumed by all civilised peoples, but to make arrangements for their gradual discharge, credits cannot be extended.

It soon became apparent that the Russian Delegation was not in a position to agree upon the principles laid down by the representatives of the other Governments, and their declarations seemed to offer grounds for hope that, in practice, terms could be arranged.

Thus, Genoa has enabled the Hague Committees to seek for practical measures. It is now possible, as it would not have been before Genoa, that pre-requisites of credits may be established by Russia on a business-like footing.

Meanwhile the principal States of Europe have entered into a pact of non-aggression, by which they undertake to maintain the status quo, and to refrain from subversive propaganda and all acts of aggression, until at least 4 months after the Hague Commission has reported. Good progress has, therefore, been made to remove the first and most important obstacle against European reconstruction.

The Russian problem, though looming larger than any other, was not the only one tackled by the Genoa Conference. Other obstacles had to be faced by representative financial and economic experts of world-wide reputation, who contributed largely to the devising of plans for dealing with the difficulties caused by violent fluctuations in the values of internal currencies and well-nigh hopeless confusion in international exchanges. Imports, exports, and transport reports, a whole series of resolutions being passed dealing with each of these subjects.

Let no one say that the ills arising from the derangement of money and credit to which the present depression in trade and widespread unemployment are largely due will not be cured by resolutions. The first and obvious step is not merely to ascertain, but to cause to be recognised, the true malady, and then to secure that treaties be applied.

The resolutions are the result of patient investigation by the best known and most trusted experts in Europe. Remedies are pointed out, and in many cases practical steps have been resolved upon.

Finally, our objects have been to co-operate with other nations in securing peace and trade. Something worth doing has been accomplished, and good hope exists that the seeds have been sown for a still richer harvest."

NON-AGGRESSION PACT.

ACCEPTED UNANIMOUSLY.

GENOA, Thursday.

The plenary meeting of the Political Commission this morning unanimously adopted the pact of non-aggression, without incident. The pact was not signed, but adopted in the form of a resolution, each State pledging itself to respect it.

The reply has been received from the United States Government with reference to the participation of America in the projected Commission at The Hague, according to which the United States reserves its decision pending further investigations and until the situation has become clearer.

The final plenary sitting of the Conference will take place at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.—(Reuter.)

ARSENAL IN NEWRY.

As the result of a search, carried out early yesterday morning by the Newry police in the Courtney Hill district, bombs and ammunition were found. The seizure included 20 bombs, an up-to-date electric mine exploder, over 300 rounds of heavy revolver ammunition, fuses, a Very pistol, revolvers, detonators, coils of wire, and two of the railway buffers that were stolen at Albert Basin on Monday morning last. Much importance is attached to the "find." The articles were in boxes, which were hidden in the ground.

EX-POLICEMEN ORDERED AWAY.

During the present week a party of men raided the houses of three demobilised R.I.C. men in the Castlebaldwin district of County Sligo, and warned them to leave the district immediately. The raiders fired shots, broke the doors and windows, and made a search for firearms. It is stated that a girl who opposed them received two bullet wounds in the arm. Two of the policemen left by the next train for Dublin.

RAIDS ON A RAILWAY.

Raids are occurring daily at both Rosslare Harbour and Limerick Junction Railway Stations, parcels of newspapers being destroyed. At Cloughjordan the goods store and booking office were broken into on Wednesday night, and goods robbed. Fermoy and Limerick goods premises were also raided and goods removed. At Killarney passenger trains were raided and luggage interfered with, and the same thing occurred at Headford Junction and Killorglin. The down Dublin goods train was "held up" at Knocklong on the morning of May 17.

IRISH RAILWAY COMMISSION.

The Belfast Branch of the Railway Clerks' Association, at their meeting on the 15th inst., after hearing reports from delegates and having taken into consideration the correspondence with the Labour Ministers of Northern and Southern Ireland, resolved to request the General Secretary and Irish Secretary to urge upon the Government of Northern Ireland the desirability of setting up a separate Commission for the railways serving the Northern area; and to give evidence on behalf of the station masters, supervisory and clerical grades.

SHIPS JOINERS TO RESUME WORK.

There is a possibility of an early return to work in the ship repairing industry on the Merseyside, the stoppage of which affects 20,000 men. A meeting of ships' joiners yesterday decided to return to work immediately on the national settlement terms. Their action is likely to be followed by the other unions concerned.

Canon Vincent King Cooper, St. Mary's, Durham, for some years Sacrist, and later Precentor, of Durham Cathedral, died yesterday.

FROM TO-DAY'S LONDON PAPERS.

BACK TO REALITIES.

BLIGHT OF BOLSHEVISM.

"THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY SAYS:—

Now America is ready, as she always has been ready, to join other Powers in "any purely scientific investigation" of conditions in Russia, and of the steps necessary for her economic revival. But while still prepared to take part in this kind of inquiry, it is reaffirmed to-day with emphasis that she will take no part in any deliberations which recognise the Soviet régime, or which even imply recognition of it. To do so, it is declared, would be to "perpetuate delusions" among the Russian people.

To a course so unwise, so cruel, and so perilous the United States will be no party, whether at The Hague or elsewhere. The truth is that the American Government and the American people, with all their pity for the famine-stricken victims of Bolshevism, and with all their traditional sympathy with the Russian people, see that the Russian problem and the European problem, of which it is a part, are not to be solved by sentiment, by equivocal agreement, or by sonorous phrases.

The dominant realities of the situation are, politically, that the Bolshevist system and its instrument, the Third International, are a permanent and organised conspiracy against all civilised Government and people, and, economically, that Russia can be redeemed only by those loans or credits from private investors abroad which Bolshevism destroys by destroying the confidence on which they must be based.

FILTHY PAPER NOTES.

CLEAN COINS TO TAKE THEIR PLACE.

The misery of the paper notes for 50 centimes, one franc, and two francs, which, in the eyes of all who love cleanliness, has been one of the curses of the war, is soon to disappear throughout France, states The Times Paris Correspondent.

It is announced that the authorities have ordered from Birmingham 14 new machines, capable of turning out daily 600,000 bronze aluminium counters of the attractive models already in circulation. These machines are due for delivery in Paris at the end of the month.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

CHEERFUL MARKETS.

A more cheerful tendency characterised the Stock Markets yesterday, but the better feeling was not accompanied by any increase in the volume of business, states The Times. The news of the pending Straits Settlement Loan came as a surprise to the market, but had no effect on gilt-edged securities.

Home Railway Stocks rallied to a small extent, and the Foreign Market was a shade steadier. Brazilian Tractions, Royal Dutch, and Rio Tinto Shares showed pronounced strength.

DISBANDED IRISH REGIMENTS.

Under the heading of "A Dangerous Blunder," the Daily News, in a leading article, says:—The Government are on the point of committing what may prove a very costly blunder. The disbanding of the Irish regiments—which has already begun—will involve the return to Ireland of some 7,000 Irishmen. Opin

DAIL EIREANN.

DISTRESS PROBLEM.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

FINANCIAL QUESTIONS.

When the Speaker took the Chair at the resumed session of Dail Eireann in Dublin yesterday, it was noticed that neither Mr. Collins nor Mr. de Valera was in his accustomed seat.

The Speaker announced that matters arising out of the discussion of the reports of the Peace Committee on the previous day were at the moment under consideration, and the House would, therefore, take up the various Ministerial reports which had not yet been discussed.

The Minister of Labour having explained the terms of reference of the Canal Commission of Inquiry, his report was unanimously adopted.

Mr. Mellowes made a personal explanation regarding his reference on Wednesday to Timmany Hall methods during the peace negotiations. He said that he did not refer to one side or the other, but to both sides.

The Speaker hoped that none of them would ever say anything about their colleagues more serious than that.

The report of the Minister of Education was agreed after a brief discussion.

Arising out of the report of the Minister of Publicity, Mr. Erskine Childers said that it was rather too meagre. The substantial part of it dealt with the work done in Belfast in exposing the atrocities perpetrated there, and he should be the first to congratulate him upon it. The information which the Minister had given regarding the all-round situation in the North had been very valuable, but he thought that the work involved in it was hardly sufficient to tax the whole time of his department. He would like to know whether he was putting in train the important work of collating the records of the war period. A great amount of information must be at his disposal regarding the history of the war. There was, for instance, no list of the casualties incurred in the war. There was other information which the Minister could put before the world.

Mr. MacSwiney complained that the Minister had neglected his duty towards the Republic, and that he had done nothing to look after its interests.

MR. FITZGERALD'S REPLY.

Mr. Desmond Fitzgerald, Minister of Publicity, replying to Mr. Childers's observations, said that he did not think that it was time, even now, to publish the records with regard to the war. As to anti-Irish propaganda, there was a misapprehension abroad, but it was difficult to deal with, because, as the public got a glimpse of it when it got his name in the papers, it was only the lawless acts that got publicity. The atmosphere created by that was derogatory to the good name of Ireland. If lawless acts in Ireland would be easy to prove that Ireland was a perfectly orderly country. He had done his best to dispel the misapprehension, and all the time that he had been in office he endeavoured to uphold the good name of the country. Their propaganda during the war was entirely based on the democratic nature of the movement, and they said that the majority of the people declared for a certain thing, and at present he thought that most of them would agree that the people were in favour of the Treaty.

He was trying to make his work as non-contentious as possible. The matter that was most urgent at present seemed to be to conceal certain facts rather than publish them. The two twenty-six communiques made it difficult for them to bring out the truth in regard to the situation in Belfast.

The report was adopted.

UNEMPLOYMENT AND DISTRESS.

Supplemental estimates were submitted by the Ministers of Local Government and Labour for adoption.

The estimate of £3,440 for the Department of Local Government was adopted without discussion.

A second estimate (also supplemental) of £50,000 for the relief of unemployment and distress was moved by Mr. Cosgrave for the Local Government Department, and by Mr. J. McGrath, Minister of Labour.

Mr. Cosgrave said to the very serious state of unemployment existing in Wexford, and to the distress generally prevailing in certain districts of Mayo, Donegal, Cork, Kerry, Clare, Sligo and other places. In many cases where there was acute unemployment the only way open to these affected was to apply to the rates for relief. In one district in Donegal (Letterkenny Rural District and the White Arse) and put up a sum, between them, for the relief of the distress. Undoubtedly, the responsibility for those conditions rested on the Dail, and something had to be done towards stabilising conditions. The question of embarking on capital expenditure had been thought of, but as the rates of interest made this prohibitive, he would recommend it. Schemes had been started in places seriously affected by unemployment, and money was required to complete the work started.

Mr. Michael Hughes criticised the estimate. At a time, he said, when there was just a possibility that the two sides in the Dail could be got together, it was most unfortunate that such matters as this should be left to the Ministers for Local Government and Labour should be put before the House. He had not the slightest compunction in characterising it as a deliberate attempt to bribe the unemployed.

They all knew of the question which had been put, a couple of weeks previously regarding the subsistence allowances that were being drawn by members of the Dail. That question gave rise to the question was, in effect, that such allowances were being drawn. Thirteen of fourteen supporters of the Treaty had drawn, since last December, subsistence allowances at the rate of £250 per year. That had been a most necessary thing when members of the Dail had been "on the run" and could not attend to their business. Since that they found that thirteen of fourteen of the majority were drawing those allowances, though some of them were people who had apparently very good means of their own. They were, moreover, that ex-private gentleman—a supporter of the Treaty—in order to compensate him for alleged loss in his business, was sent to America and given £1,000, with an honorarium of £250, and in addition all his expenses were paid.

Now, this third attempt was well in advance of the other two. As he had not the report of the Minister for Finance before him he did not know exactly what they would have left in the Exchequer after the expenditure of this £100,000. He knew that there were a number of honest Deputies who thought they did the right thing in voting for the Treaty, and he would ask those now to vote against this estimate, and to say that the money must be got from some other source.

Mr. Harry Boland said that he would ask the Minister for Local Government if he had come to any arrangement that there must be still a sum of 400,000 dollars unexpended by the White Cross. He should see that that was expended before he asked anything from the Dail.

REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.

Mr. Kent, referring to the statement made by the Minister of Finance on Wednesday evening, said that although revenue had not been collected in April to defray the cost of the public services, said that such a thing was not surprising when they saw £100,000 paid in salaries and in setting up a huge army to force the Irish people into the British Empire against their will.

Mr. Boland said that he should explain that the money he had referred to was collected by the American Committee for Relief in Ireland.

Mr. J. McGrath, Minister of Labour, said that every day brought appeals for relief from all parts of the country. Under the British Government an unemployment scheme had been in force, and, surely, they were not going to allow the people to die of starvation. It was their duty to provide relief. If it were possible to get the money from any other source, then they would not touch the £100,000 asked for.

Mr. Robbins (Roscommon) declared that starvation was facing the people in the Western districts. The rate was steadily rising. During the last few weeks the White Cross had contributed a sum of £25,000, but it was inadequate to meet the situation.

Mr. Sean T. O'Kelly moved that the proposal be postponed pending the submission of a detailed and considered scheme.

Dr. MacCartan suggested that a committee from both sides should study the question of finding employment in the country, and should get power to spend the money, subject to the approval of the Minister of Local Government.

Mr. Art O'Connor agreed with the suggestion. He admitted that the distress in the West was to a large extent due to the acute economic depression in England, as the Western migratory labourer was unable to get employment across the water. Another reason was the fact that the small farmers were not able to get rid of their store cattle.

Mr. P. J. Ruttledge hoped that the Min ster of local Government would give an undertaking that the money would not be distributed over the heads of local bodies because they were Republican.

Messrs. Etchingham and McDonagh supported Dr. MacCartan's suggestion.

MR. COSGRAVE'S REPLY.

Mr. Cosgrave, Minister for Local Government, said that unless he had information as to the amount of money available there was no use in putting up schemes. The Provisional Government had provided a million of money for housing, and every possible step had been taken to expedite the work. He deprecated—and the Dail never authorised it—the striking of a rate for the I.E.A., as had been done in one area.

His Department had offered the services of its inspectors to the White Cross, with the view to the distribution of relief in any area. He was not prepared to recommend the Minister of Finance to issue money to any local authority that did not carry out its business in a regular and orderly manner. There were areas which required hug sums of money for the relief of distress, and he believed that the money could be supplied if the Committee were set up and particulars of the applications and works were given. The distress was very pronounced in certain areas by reason of the withdrawal of the British troops and the resultant unemployment.

The following Committee was nominated to devise a scheme for immediate relief of unemployment in the districts affected by distress, and to report to the Dail:—Messrs. Ruttledge, A. O'Connor, T. O'Donoghue, P. O'Malley, P. J. Ward (Chairman, Donegal County Council), the Lord Mayor of Cork, and the Mayors of Waterford and Wexford.

Mr. Cosgrave suggested that Mr. J. McGrath should be appointed Chairman of the Committee.

Mr. Burgess—It is not proposed to pass the money now?

Mr. Cosgrave said that it was understood that a sum of money would be available.

The Speaker—The motion is that a supplemental estimate be passed with the addendum.

Mr. Cosgrave suggested that the matter should be left over till to-day and that the Committee should meet him that evening, when he hoped that the matter could be fixed up in a manner satisfactory to all parties.

This suggestion was agreed to.

Mr. Dan McCarthy—As the "conversations" are still going on, I move the adjournment of the House till 3 o'clock to-morrow.

Mr. Boland seconded the motion, and the House adjourned accordingly until 3 o'clock to-day.

CHANGE NEEDED.

RAILWAY CONTROL.

BURDEN ON CATTLE TRADE.

At yesterday's meeting of the Dublin Port and Docks Board, Alderman James Moran referred to a letter from Mr. Joseph McGrath, Minister of Labour, in which he informed the Board that the Provisional Government were prepared to make a grant of a sum not exceeding £10,000 on the basis of a 60 per cent. grant towards the wages bill in connection with the construction of the Spur Wharf and Alexandra Basin Extension up to the end of July next. He handed in a letter stating the conditions on which the grant was made. The Minister of Labour expressed the hope that the work would go out under way immediately. The conditions were:—(3) 50 per cent. of the total number of men to be employed to be selected from those previously employed; 50 per cent. from lists supplied through the Labour Exchange by I.R.A. authorities. (2) For the selection of the 50 per cent. from men previously employed in the Port and Docks Board officials should be responsible, the selection being made on the basis of proved competence and efficiency. (3) The Port and Docks Board officials should also be responsible for the selection on the same basis from the lists supplied by the I.R.A. authorities. (4) The Port and Docks Board on requiring men should notify from time to time the Employment Exchange as far as the number of vacancies to be filled, and give the names of the men selected by the Board out of those previously employed to the number of 50 per cent. of the total number available. The Employment Exchange would arrange with these men to report to the Board's officials. In respect of the remaining 50 per cent. of vacancies the manager would communicate with the I.R.A. authorities and obtain the names of suitable men. These men would then be requested to attend at the Exchange, and if they appeared suitable would be sent to the responsible Port and Docks Board official. The latter should decide whether the particular man is suitable or not (to avoid complaints of incompetent men being forced on the Board). In the event of the I.R.A. authorities being unable at any time to supply the names of suitable men up to 50 per cent. of the quota required, the balance of the 50 per cent. should be provided by the manager, in consultation with the Transport Union, out of men registered for employment at the Exchange, including any competent men previously employed on the works, the final selection resting in this, as in all the other cases, with the Port and Docks Board. Preference should, so far as possible, be given to married men with families, and where clerical assistance is required application to be made to the Labour Exchange, the manager of which will in turn consult the I.R.A. authorities.

Alderman McGarry (Labour) said that these terms very fair, and even generous, very much more so than the previous arrangement, because under that they had no say in the matter.

Alderman Moran said that he believed the grant was the result of sympathy of their Labour

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES.

IRISH STOCK EXCHANGES.

DUBLIN.

FUNDS AND BANK STOCK LOWER. GUINNESS BUOYANT. MARCONIS FLUCTUATING. REPORTED IRISH DEVELOPMENT. RAILS AND TEXTILES BETTER. DUNLOPS QUIETER.

Actual business remained on a comparatively limited scale on the Dublin Stock Exchange, but there were a few points of more than passing interest. The outstanding feature was the rush of support for Guinness Ord. Shares and the persistent buying was maintained through out the session. The Funds were a bit irregular, with Consols, Funding, Victory, and Conversion Loans all offered and lower, while War Loan at 97½ p.c. was better. Bank of Ireland was less firm, and was the only Bank quoted until late in the day, when Hibernians improved. The Brewery market was conspicuous by the heavy support given to Guinness Ord. Shares at a smart advance. Dublin Distillers Ord. had a slightly better tendency, and J. Power and Son Pref. were supported freely at last price. Marconi issues were weaker for a short time on profit-snatching, in spite of reliable rumours as to an Irish development of the company's business, but later turned active and strong again. Home Rails, where changed, were higher. Dublin United Tram issues met with some irregular attention. The Irish Dunlop market noted the previous day subsided, and a small number of shares changed hands. Textiles on pin benefited by the good Fine Spinners report. Tobaccos were, on the whole, supported, with considerable briskness in Imperials, which closed on the right side of 60s. Oils improved, answering the better overnight market in London.

The Funds were pretty busy. War Loan 5 p.c. rose ¼ to 99¾, and the Deed Stock quoted 99½. Consols gave way ⅛ to 57⅞. Victory Bonds ¼ to 89⅞, Conversion 3½ p.c. ¼ to 77⅛, while Irish Land 3 p.c. repeated 65¾, and Local Loans 3 p.c. 66 for an odd lot, but the latter rose to 66⅞ later. Dublin Corporation Stock at 70¾ was unaltered.

In Banks, Bank of Ireland fell ¼ to 22⅝, but Nationals rose ⅛ to 17¾ at the later market.

Breweries and Distilleries monopolised the bulk of attention. Guinness Ord. opened ¾ higher at 41¾, and were then carried steadily up to 42 buyers. The 6½ per cent. Pref. and J. Power and Son Participating Pref. 19s. 9d. Dublin Distillers Ord. that fell 5s. the previous day rallied 6d. to 6s. 6d.

City of Dublin Steam Pref. realised 102½ x.d., a decline of 1, allowing for the exact cash dividend deducted from the price. Grand Canal Pref. fell 8s. 9d. to 81s. 3d. but at the later market was firmer, and was the only Bank quoted until late in the day, when Rhondda and Swansea Bay Stocks from the last consequent on the approval of the terms of amalgamation with the Great Western. The new French Railway Loans were dull on the day, as were Argentine Rails. About the best feature in the Foreign market was Brazils, which registered rises of from ¼ to a point in contrast with the general dull tone in this section. Dealings began in the new Calcutta Loan, which opened at 2 prem., but subsequently reacted and closed at 1¼ prem. Underwriting was in progress for the new Straits Loan, which is to be an issue of £4,200,000 1935-45 4½ p.c. at 95. Market opinion inclines to the view that this issue, despite the terms, will meet with a better reception than the N.S. Wales Loan.

STOCKS IMPROVE.

NEW STRAITS LOAN.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT AND THE "FINANCIAL NEWS" OF TO-DAY.)

Business yesterday was again generally dull, but a somewhat better tone set in during the latter part of the session, notably in Home Rails, which exhibited an appreciable recovery after the all-round decline of the previous day. This tendency was more pronounced in the case of the "Heavies" than in those issues which have lately been favourite speculative counters. An interesting event in the Home Railway market was the removal of the Port Talbot and Rhondda and Swansea Bay Stocks from the list consequent on the approval of the terms of amalgamation with the Great Western. The new French Railway Loans were dull on the day, as were Argentine Rails. About the best feature in the Foreign market was Brazils, which registered rises of from ¼ to a point in contrast with the general dull tone in this section. Dealings began in the new Calcutta Loan, which opened at 2 prem., but subsequently reacted and closed at 1¼ prem. Underwriting was in progress for the new Straits Loan, which is to be an issue of £4,200,000 1935-45 4½ p.c. at 95. Market opinion inclines to the view that this issue, despite the terms, will meet with a better reception than the N.S. Wales Loan.

LONDON STOCKS STRONGER

BUSINESS QUIET.

The Stock markets were distinctly stronger yesterday, due to the clearing of the international political situation, and, although business was rather quiet, the general tendency in quotations was to a higher level. The gilt-edged market at first led the way, but the forward move did not last, and the tone was dull at the close. The department was undisturbed by the knowledge that underwriting had been completed of a £4 million Straits Settlements loan bearing interest at 4½ p.c., and to issued at 95, although for the moment the anomaly of the discount of 2½ upon a similar loan for New South Wales obtained. The 5 p.c. War Loan rose ¼ to 99¾. The prices quoted yesterday for new issues were:—Australia 5 p.c., 2½ pm.; Brazil 7½ p.c., 2½ pm.; Calcutta 6 p.c., 1¼ pm.; Chilean 7½ p.c., 2 pm.; Czecho, ⅛ dis.; International Car, 2½ pm.; Lamport and Holt, 11 pm.; Leeds 5 p.c., 1½ dis.; Mid. 4½ p.c., ¾ dis.; New South Wales Nord, ¼ dis.; N. Met. Electric Trams Pref., 2½ pm.; Orleans, 1½ dis.; P. and O. Debs., ½ pm.; Powell Duffryn, 5 pm.; Robinson (Peter) Pref., 1s. 9d. pm.; Siamese, 6½ pm.; Union Castle Debs., 10 pm.; Wellington 5 p.c., 3½ pm.; West Australia 5 p.c., 2 pm.; Yorkshire Power Pref., 20s. pm.

German Threes fell another ¼ to 2 in FOREIGN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES, while French Loans were unchanged. Peruvian issues were firm. The Ord. rose ¼ to 4 and the Pref. 1 to 23. Mexican 4 per cents rose 1 to 70¾. Argentine 5 p.c. rose 1 to 100 and Brazilian Funding of 1914 1 to 70.

HOME RAILS were not very active, but prices were maintained, and here and there advances were recorded.

"Campas" added a point to 158 in COLONIAL and FOREIGN RAILWAYS, but Argentines again showed sagging tendency, Fell 1 to 72½ and Westerns ¼ to 68. Antofagasta Ord. dropped ¼ to 58½, and Leopoldina did the same at 28. San Paulo Ord. were 126½.

INTERESTING MINES.

BETTER DEMAND FOR SHARES.

Business in the house was generally of a somewhat hesitating character, but the undercurrent was quite firm in all departments. In the Mining market the feeling of confidence engendered by the news of the settlement of the Central Mining group ex-enemy shares gained ground, and there was a distinct disposition on the part of both the public and professionals to take a greater interest in Kaffirs. General Mining were again in favour, and Rand Mines, City Deep, Crown Mines, and several others were sought after. Anglo-French came to the front in connection with the company's oil concessions, and moderately small-priced shares were being picked up. The Far Easterns were not quite so much in evidence as on previous days. Chartered made a strong effort to recover their old position of leader, but the feature was the sharp jump in Sclukwe on a wider appreciation of the possibilities of the Canadian property. Closing prices:—

LEASEHOLD PREMISES.

27 LONGFORD TERRACE, MONKSTOWN.

VACANT POSSESSION TO PURCHASER.
Held for 99 years from 1861, subject to a rent of £10.

TO BE SOLD BY PUBLIC AUCTION AT JAMES ADAM and SONS' ESTATE SALEROOMS, 17 MERRION ROW, DUBLIN,
On MONDAY, 12th JUNE, 1922,
At the hour of 3 o'clock.

The late Mr. Cooke quite recently expended a large sum of money in putting the house into first-class structural and decorative repair—its purchaser need not have a penny outlay.

The accommodation consists of 3 floors, particularly suitable for Flats, with little or no outlay necessary for conversion. Already the top flat and the half flat have been converted: baths, w.c.'s, and kitchenettes in each. Tenants were forthcoming for both, but the Executors have to Sell the House. The basement is particularly bright and wholesome, with abundant light and air, and would make a very good fourth flat dwelling.

There is a nicely laid out garden, with coach house or garage and living rooms, good enclosed concrete-floored yard, and entrance to main road tram line.

The House looks directly on to the Salthill Hotel grounds and across Dublin Bay to Hill of Howth.
